Important Reminder From Nurse

Again parents are reminded that head-lice are an age old reality in school and community life. Please check your child/ren's hair every couple of weeks when it is wet. Itching is a good reason to check but not a reliable indicator of infestation. Many people are unaware of and are unaffected by the presence of lice in their hair. If you do find head lice in your child's hair, please do share the information with the parents of your child/ren's close friends – infestation is common between close friends. The nurse will check any child if asked to do so by a parent or a teacher. If you would like any information on the subject – in particular the best detection methods and notes on treatment – please do not hesitate to contact her on Ext 126.
